Message From The Publisher

The Innocents Bookshop is now available on JD's website. The IB is a work in progress, so the initial selection of books, movies and documentaries related to wrongful convictions will be added to as time goes on. It is at, <http://justicedenied.org/books.htm>

As you have noticed the physical size of the magazine has been changed to 8-1/2" x 11", and it is now bound. Practical benefits of this change are it reduces JD's mailing expense, and makes it easier for readers to store JD for future reference.

Although people in the U.S. may be generally unaware of it, wrongful convictions are a world-wide problem. The existence of that situation is reflected in the emails JD receives from people all over the world. One thing that is apparent from reviewing "foreign" cases is there are common threads to wrongful convictions regardless of where they occur. Since the injustice of an innocent person's conviction knows no borders, JD has begun including more information about cases outside the U.S. This issue includes articles about cases in Canada, Kuwait, Hungary, Bulgaria and England. Change the name of the location to any city in any state, USA, and the name of the defendant is the most likely way a person might guess that a given case did not occur in the U.S.

Justice:Denied's volunteers appreciate your continuing support, and we welcome any thoughts or suggestions you may have about the magazine.
